The Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) Program at Cleveland State University is seeking to fill a nine-month, tenure-track Clinical Assistant Professor or Assistant Professor position to begin fall 2019. Fully accredited since 1976, the PT program is located within The School of Health Sciences, part of the College of Sciences and Health Professions. The DPT Program actively engages students in the educational process and provides an energetic, collegial, and supportive academic environment within the University and the dynamic Cleveland biomedical community. Cleveland State University is an urban campus serving racially, culturally, and economically diverse students.

Primary Duties for either position include teaching DPT courses; being involved in ongoing curriculum development/evaluation; mentoring/advising students; and providing academic, professional, and/or community service. In addition, Clinical Assistant Professors are expected to contribute to research, while Assistant Professors are expected to conduct research.

Minimum Qualifications: a physical therapist with eligibility for Ohio PT licensure; a minimum of three years of clinical physical therapy practice experience; the ability to teach core courses in the DPT Program; strong interpersonal skills, including the ability to collaborate and work on teams; and evidence of teaching and scholarship capability. In addition, by July 1, 2019, candidates for Clinical Assistant Professor must have an earned clinical or research doctorate in physical therapy or a related field, while candidates for Assistant Professor must have an earned research doctorate in physical therapy or a related field.

Preferred Qualifications: evidence of experience and excellence in teaching, especially in higher education and/or in physical therapy; APTA board-certified clinical specialist and/or graduate of clinical residency or fellowship training program; experience in integrating technology into teaching; professional, academic, and/or community service and/or leadership; and experience serving diverse students and/or the ability to make a positive contribution to CSU's diverse community. In addition, for the Assistant Professor position, evidence of excellence in research, including a record of publications and successful grant activity.

Description: Application Procedures: Submit a letter of application specifying the rank for which you are applying (Assistant Professor or Clinical Assistant Professor) and addressing your qualifications. This letter must also include a brief statement of your teaching, research, and service philosophies. In addition, submit your curriculum vitae and names and email addresses of three references. Applications will be exclusively accepted online <http://hrjobs.csuohio.edu/postings/9942>. Mailed or emailed application materials will not be accepted. Preference will be given to applications submitted by January 7, 2019.

Salary Range: Commensurate with experience.

Application Deadline: Applications will be reviewed starting January 7, 2019 and the position will remain open until filled.

Starting Date: August 19, 2019

Informal inquiries may be directed to Ann Reinthal, PT, PhD, Co-chair of DPT Search Committee, School of Health Sciences at a.karas@csuohio.edu or 216-687-3576.

Note: Hiring is contingent on maintaining the existing levels of funding from the state of Ohio. Offer of employment is contingent on satisfactory completion of the University's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or University policies or practices, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

It is the policy of Cleveland State University to provide equal opportunity to all qualified applicants and employees without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, national origin, age, protected veteran or disability status, or genetic information.
