

APTAEducation.org Classified Ads

Job Title: Assistant/associate Professor Of Rehab Sciences/physical Therapy

Organization: Drexel University
Contact Phone: 215-762-8805
Contact E-mail: lc38@drexel.edu
Date Ad Started: December 20, 2012

Contact Name: Lisa Chiarello
Contact Fax: 215-762-3886
Contact Web Site:
Expires: March 20, 2013

The Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Sciences at Drexel University in the College of Nursing and Health Professions is seeking applicants with expertise in orthopaedics for a 12-month tenure track faculty appointment. For over 30 years our nationally-ranked programs have used evidence-based practice and strong clinical research to advance the field and prepare students for leadership as research scientists, educators, and clinicians.

Qualifications:

1. Eligible for Pennsylvania licensure as a physical therapist.
2. Research-based doctoral degree (PhD or equivalent), with post-doctoral research experience preferred.
3. Potential for excellence as a research scientist in the study of orthopaedics including the ability to initiate collaborate projects and obtain extramural funding. Applicants should have a focused research agenda in musculoskeletal rehabilitation.
4. Capability to mentor PhD students.
5. Ability to teach in PhD and DHSc programs and professional DPT curriculum.

Join us as we move into a new 21,000 sq. ft. space housing research laboratories and a multidisciplinary clinical practice in Spring 2013. Laboratory space and start-up package will be negotiated based upon the candidate's needs and record of research success. Academic rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications.

Description:

Drexel University's mission is to serve students and society through comprehensive integrated academic offerings enhanced by technology, co-operative education, and clinical practice in an urban setting with global outreach embracing research, scholarly activities, and community initiatives. For eight consecutive years, Drexel has been ranked in the category of Best National Universities in "America's Best Colleges" by U.S. News & World Report. Drexel also ranked second among national universities in the U.S. News list of "Up-and-Comers," those schools most often cited by university administrators nationwide as making "the most promising and innovative changes in the areas of academics, faculty, student life, campus, or facilities." Philadelphia, "the city of neighborhoods," is the nation's fifth largest metropolitan area, offering rich and diverse historical, cultural, and recreational opportunities as well as a broad range of healthcare facilities for faculty research and service.

Interested candidates should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, five-year research plan, and three references to: Lisa Chiarello PT, PhD, PCS, Chair Search Committee, Drexel University, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Sciences, 245 N. 1st Street, MS 502, Philadelphia, PA 19102-1192 (P: 215-762-8805; F: 215-762-3886; E-mail: lisa.chiarello@drexel.edu).

Drexel University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and encourages applications from women, members of minority groups, disabled individuals, and veterans. Drexel University and the Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Sciences are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of research and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity.
