Physical Therapy Faculty

The Physical Therapy Department at the College of St. Scholastica invites applications for an open faculty position with an anticipated start of Fall Semester 2019. Faculty rank, tenure option and salary are negotiable based on terminal degree and experience.

Primary responsibilities include teaching in the entry-level DPT program, scholarship, and service to the college and profession. The successful candidate will foster a culture of inclusion in the classroom.

An earned doctoral degree (PhD or equivalent; DPT) and Minnesota PT License (or eligible for MN License) is required. Demonstrated success working with diverse populations, cross-cultural communication skills, and multicultural competency is a must. Teaching experience in a professional program is preferred. Individuals with expertise in Cardiopulmonary or Acute Care PT are especially encouraged to apply. Graduate teaching experience; history of scholarly productivity and evidence of service to the physical therapy profession is desirable. All qualified candidates will be considered.

Description:

The College of St. Scholastica is a thriving independent private college with its main campus overlooking Lake Superior in Duluth, extended campuses throughout Minnesota and vibrant online programs that attract learners from around the world. Since 1912, The College of St. Scholastica (CSS) has been preparing students for responsible living and meaningful work by emphasizing the Catholic Benedictine values upon which it was founded. The College serves an enrollment of over 4,000 students in undergraduate and graduate degree programs throughout six schools— nursing, arts and letters, business and technology, education, health sciences, and sciences. U.S. News & World Report consistently ranks CSS among the best colleges and universities in the region for academic excellence and in 2017 Money magazine's "best colleges for your money" list ranked St. Scholastica in the top 5 percent nationwide, based on educational quality, affordability and alumni earnings.

For more information and to apply, visit <http://apptrkr.com/1309302>. The College of St. Scholastica is an equal opportunity employer committed to creating an educational and work environment that is rich in diversity, inclusive and supportive of all students, faculty and staff. Individuals from diverse racial, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds and persons with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply. While there is no religious requirement, we are interested in individuals who value and support the rich Catholic Benedictine heritage of the College of St. Scholastica.
