Description:

The Department of Physical Therapy at Missouri State University invites applications for a 12-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin July 1, 2019. The candidate must be a physical therapist eligible for licensure in Missouri, hold an earned academic doctorate (e.g., PhD, DHS, DSc, EdD, or equivalent), and a clinical practice certification, with at least eight years of orthopedic clinical and administrative experience in an outpatient, manual therapy setting treating patients with acute, recurrent, and chronic orthopedic and neuromuscular dysfunction. The candidate must have an interest in assisting with clinical education, orthopedic/neuromuscular program development, demonstrate effective communication and relationship-building skills, have previous academic teaching experience, and demonstrate potential for scholarly activity. Candidates who are ABD (or equivalent) and who are willing to obtain an advanced clinical practice certification will be considered.

Responsibilities: The Assistant Professor is a member of the ranked faculty with an intermediate academic rank who has demonstrated achievement in the areas of teaching, research, and professional service appropriate to the discipline. The Assistant Professor's teaching responsibilities are assigned by the academic department head and may include serving as an academic advisor. The Assistant Professor engages in scholarly activities beyond those associated with teaching and is expected to demonstrate professional productivity in research, based upon the availability of resources and consistent with the mission of the University.

Candidate will provide didactic instruction in the physical therapy curriculum with primary emphasis in teaching physical therapy students how to evaluate and treat patients with acute, recurrent, and chronic orthopedic and neuromuscular dysfunction. Additional responsibilities include assisting in program development, engaging in scholarly activity; and providing service to the department, college, university, and profession. Clinical practice opportunities are available and encouraged.

Qualifications: The minimum acceptable qualifications for the position of Assistant Professor are prescribed in the Faculty Handbook, http://www.missouristate.edu/provost/facultyhandbook/. The ability to develop knowledge of, respect for, and skills to engage with those of other cultures or backgrounds is required. The Candidate must be a physical therapist eligible for licensure in Missouri, hold an earned academic doctorate (e.g., PhD, DHS, DHSc, DSc, EdD, or equivalent) with at least eight years of orthopedic clinical and administrative experience in an outpatient, manual therapy setting treating patients with acute, recurrent, and chronic orthopedic and neuromuscular dysfunction. Candidates who are ABD or equivalent will be considered and candidates willing to obtain an advanced clinical practice certification, having previous academic teaching experience and a record of scholarly activity are encouraged to apply.
