The Doctor of Physical Therapy program at Adventist University of Health Sciences (ADU), in Orlando, Florida, is seeking applications for an additional full-time faculty position, beginning as soon as January 2019. Rank and salary will be commensurate with education, teaching, and scholarly experience.

ADU, a Candidate for Accreditation, enrolled its first cohort in May, 2016. The faculty member being recruited will join seven existing core faculty members. ADU, a faith-based institution, develops health professionals from diverse backgrounds who are committed to Christian values. As a health professions university associated with the highly ranked Florida Hospital, ADU provides a multitude of collaborative clinical practice and research opportunities. Consistent with its mission, physical therapist faculty, staff, and students provide care to individuals typically underserved in our own community and globally.

Requirements for the successful applicant are: academic doctoral degree (PhD, EdD, or equivalent) or a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree with clinical specialist credential, and an established record of teaching and scholarly work. Commitment to the ADU mission is essential. Preference will be given to an individual with established expertise to teach in at least one of the following areas: biomechanics, neuroscience, physiology/pathophysiology, and/or research. All qualified candidates with a commitment to teaching excellence and advancing scholarly work are encouraged to apply.

Description: The candidates must be eligible for licensure as a physical therapist in Florida.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Qualified candidates should send a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, and the names of three (3) references to:

Scott Bennie, PT, DSc, MBA

Vice Chair & Associate Professor, Department of Physical Therapy

Chair of the Faculty Search Committee
