Tenure Track Faculty in Physical Therapy Education

Acute Care or Neurological Expertise Preferred

The College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) at Rockhurst University invites applications for two full-time faculty in the Department of Physical Therapy Education. Rockhurst's Doctorate of Physical Therapy (DPT) program is distinctive for its quality teaching using a broad range of active learning experiences, close faculty-student interactions, and our strong mission focused on service, advocacy, and leadership. The successful applicants will join a dynamic faculty in a program recognized for excellence within the University and the community.

Responsibilities of these tenure-track positions include teaching and advising students, conducting and mentoring research, and participating in Department and University committees. These positions are for 11-months/year. Candidates with a focused interest in acute care or neurological physical therapy are highly encouraged to apply.

Rockhurst University is a welcoming and inclusive private Catholic, Jesuit institution with a strong mission aligned with the core values of physical therapist practice. The DPT program is one of four academic departments housed in CHHS, including Communication Sciences and Disorders, Health, Physics and Applied Sciences, and Occupational Therapy. The College is committed to being learner-centered, service and community-minded. Rockhurst DPT students are often commended for excellence in academics, professionalism, service, and leadership, and graduates of the program are highly sought for employment. Additional details about the Physical Therapy Program are available on the program's website: ww2.rockhurst.edu/physical-therapy.

Located in the heartland of the nation, Kansas City is an affordable city with a metropolitan population of 2.5 million, known for its barbeque, jazz heritage, sports teams with enthusiastic support, and numerous cultural opportunities. The faculty have established strong relationships with many community partners, enabling community-based service learning for students and clinical practice opportunities for interested faculty. Additional information about Kansas City can be found at www.visitkc.com.

Required qualifications for the positions include:

Doctoral degree (DPT, EdD, PhD, DSc, DHS, etc.)

Possess or be eligible for Missouri PT licensure

Excellent interpersonal, organizational and communication skills

Preferred qualifications for the positions include:

Terminal academic degree (PhD, EdD, DSc) preferred but not required

Teaching experience at the post-baccalaureate level

A strong background of clinical practice

Expertise in acute care or neurological physical therapy

Record of scholarship and a defined research agenda

Record of service to the profession and/or community

Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications. Applicants who would enhance the diversity of the College, such as individuals from historically underrepresented groups, are strongly encouraged to apply. Questions or inquiries about the position should be directed to Kelly Meiners, chair of the PT search committee, at Kelly.Meiners@rockhurst.edu or 816-501-4138.

Applicants are encouraged to apply early. Applications received prior to Nov. 1 will be reviewed first. Applications received after Nov. 1 might not be considered during the initial review; however, the positions will remain open until they are filled. Interested candidates should submit electronically a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and names and contact information for three professional references to the following link:
