Assistant Professor, Doctor of Physical Therapy Program (Ruskin, FL)

Gannon University's Morosky College of Health Professions and Sciences Doctor of Physical Therapy Program at the Ruskin, Florida campus is a developing program seeking multiple full-time, 12-month faculty members at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin July 2018.

Successful candidates for the tenure-track position(s) must have a post-professional doctorate degree (PhD, EdD, DHS, DSc, etc. or ABD), a DPT degree with a clinical specialization, and be eligible for Florida PT licensure. Candidates with at least three years of clinical experience, and greater than three years teaching expertise in one of the following content areas are preferred: clinical medicine, pharmacology, orthopedic manual therapy, adult and/or pediatrics, and evidence-based practice. Preference will be granted to candidates with a demonstrated commitment to research and service appropriate for appointment at the level of Assistant Professor and who possess strong written and verbal communication skills.

Candidates must provide evidence of effective teaching methods and scholarship in their respective fields. Qualified candidates will be expected to engage in scholarly activities in keeping with the Boyer Model of Scholarship, and must be able to support and promote the University's inclusive Mission, its Catholic identity, and its liberal arts and professional education traditions.

Gannon is a comprehensive Masters L institution that is committed to student-centered learning, with an emphasis on professional education integrated with liberal-learning student outcomes. Ruskin is located along the Gulf Coast of Florida in the Tampa Bay/St. Petersburg/Bradenton area.
