Chapman University's Department of Physical Therapy seeks applications for the Director of Clinical Education (DCE), on a non-tenure track Assistant/Associate Professor position in the Crean College of Health and Behavioral Sciences. Successful candidate will begin August 1, 2018. Continually accredited since 1928, the Department of Physical Therapy has a rich tradition as the oldest, one of the longest continually accredited physical therapy programs in the United States. The program is located on the newly opened Rinker Health Science campus, Irvine, CA. The campus is home to several current and developing accredited, graduate health science professional programs, including DPT, Pharmacy, Communication Sciences and Disorders, and Physician Assistant. The campus is distinguished by innovative teaching, learning, and research laboratories and classrooms with an emphasis on inter-professional education, evidence-based practice, and health promotion and injury/disease prevention. The Rinker campus is strategically located near numerous health service, medical device, and biopharmaceutical companies. Chapman University offers traditional undergraduate programs in the arts and sciences and select pre-professional and graduate programs. Ranked in the top tier of western universities by U.S. News and World Report, Chapman has gained national recognition for its commitment to excellence through research and innovative teaching.
