POSITION: Tenure-Track Assistant/Associate Professor of Physical Therapy. This is a 12-month position.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach Physical Therapy clinical coursework in the classroom, clinical, laboratory and on-line, advise students, conduct collaborative and independent research, mentor student research and engage in department, college, university and professional service.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Applied Medicine and Rehabilitation offers several distinctive programs: Physical Therapy (Doctorate), Physician Assistant Studies (Master's), Occupational Therapy (Master's), Athletic Training (Doctorate, Master's, Bachelor's), and Massage Therapy (Minor) and provides healthcare to student-athletes and the public through the Physical Therapy and Sports Rehabilitation Clinic and ISU's Intercollegiate Athletic Training Services.

THE PROGRAM: The DPT program at Indiana State University was admitted to candidacy status in April, 2015. The program hosts a CAPTE site visit in November, 2017 with an initial accreditation decision in April, 2018. The program currently admits 30 students/year, has reasonable teaching loads, and an extensive commitment to community engagement. The program will move into the new, state-of-the-art College of Health and Human Services Building in December of 2017.

QUALIFICATIONS: Current licensure as a physical therapist in the United States and relevant clinical experience are required. Individuals meeting the criteria at either rank, by the date of opening, are encouraged to apply. Individuals with expertise in exercise physiology, cardiopulmonary, research, orthopedics, therapeutic agents, and basic skills are preferred. Doctorate required. Academic Doctorate (PhD, EdD, DHSc, etc.) preferred.

Description:

SALARY and RANK: Competitive, commensurate with experience.

THE UNIVERSITY: Founded in 1865, Indiana State University is comprised of the Colleges of Arts & Science, Business, Education, Health and Human Services, Technology and a School of Graduate Studies. Indiana State University is a comprehensive, research-intensive institution with degree programs ranging from Associate to Doctoral levels.

LOCATION: Terre Haute, a metropolitan community of approximately 60,000 people, serving as a major retailing area for west central Indiana and east central Illinois, has two private colleges in addition to the University, is 70 miles from Indianapolis and 180 miles from Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis.

APPLICATION: Screening will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.
