Florida Southern College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor in the new School of Physical Therapy. The Physical Therapy Program is building state of the art laboratories and plans to admit the first class in fall 2019. Primary responsibilities include designing and teaching anatomy in the Doctorate Curriculum for Physical Therapy. Depending on the candidate's skill set, responsibilities may include Neuroscience and Pathology courses. The position will also require scholarly activities that will demonstrate professional productivity in research based upon the availability of resources and consistent with the mission of the College and the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE).

Qualified candidates should have a doctoral degree in anatomy and/or physiology, or related fields. Graduate-level teaching experience preferred. Knowledge of gross human anatomy and organ system physiology is required. Additional requirements include a commitment to excellence and innovation in undergraduate and graduate teaching and skills in methods of engaged learning and the use of instructional technology. In addition, Florida Southern College faculty members participate in advising, committee work, and other activities supporting Florida Southern College's teaching and learning community.

Description: Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled, but only applications received by February 2, 2018 will be assured full consideration. The position starting date is fall 2018. A complete application consists of an online application (<http://www.flsouthern.edu/human-resources.aspx>), cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy (up to 500 words), and contact information for three recommendations.

Florida Southern College, founded in 1883, is the oldest private comprehensive college in Florida.
