The Doctor of Physical Therapy program at Adventist University of Health Sciences (ADU), in Orlando, FL, is seeking applications for a Department Chair/Program Director, beginning summer of 2018. Rank and salary is competitive and commensurate with education and teaching experience.

Adventist University, a Candidate for CAPTE Accreditation, enrolled its first cohort of 23 in May of 2016. As a faith-based institution, ADU is committed to educating health care professionals who live the healing values of Christ. As a health professions' university associated with the highly ranked Florida Hospital, ADU provides a variety of collaborative clinical practice and research opportunities. Consistent with its mission, physical therapist faculty, staff, and students provide care at the Hope Clinic to individuals typically underserved in our community.

Description: Applicants must possess an academic doctoral degree (PhD, EdD, or equivalent), and demonstrate a commitment to the ADU mission. ADU is seeking candidates with leadership, teaching and research experience in higher education which meet, at a minimum, the standard of six years of full-time higher education experience and three years in a physical therapy program. The candidate must be eligible for licensure as a physical therapist in Florida.

The Chair/Program Director leads a team of seven core faculty. This individual provides effective leadership for the program including, but not limited to, responsibility for program accreditation, communication, program assessment and strategic planning, fiscal management, and faculty evaluation. The Chair/Program Director is also a member of the University leadership team, actively involved in strategic planning and implementation of the University mission and vision.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until positions are filled. Qualified candidates should send a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, and the names of 3 references to:
