Tenure Track Faculty Position in Physical Therapy Education

The College of Health and Human Services at Rockhurst University invites applications for a full-time faculty position in the Department of Physical Therapy Education's Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) Program. The successful applicant will join a dynamic faculty in a program recognized for excellence within the University and the community. Rockhurst's DPT program is distinctive for its quality teaching using a broad range of active learning experiences, close faculty-student interactions, and strong mission focused on service, advocacy, and leadership.

Responsibilities of this tenure track position include teaching in the candidate's area of expertise, advising students, conducting and mentoring research, and participating in Department and University committees. Candidates with a focused interest in acute care and/or cardiopulmonary physical therapy are highly encouraged to apply.

Rockhurst University is a welcoming and inclusive private Catholic, Jesuit institution with a strong mission aligned with the core values of physical therapist practice. The DPT program is one of five academic departments housed in the College of Health and Human Services, including Occupational Therapy, Communication Sciences and Disorders, Education, and Exercise, Sport and Health Science. The College is committed to being learner-centered, service and community-minded. Rockhurst DPT students have been commended for excellence in academics, professionalism, service, and leadership, and graduates of the program are highly sought for employment. Additional details about the Physical Therapy Program are available on the program's website: ww2.rockhurst.edu/physical-therapy

Located in the heartland of the nation, Kansas City is an affordable city with a metropolitan population of 2.5 million, known for its barbeque, jazz heritage, sports teams with enthusiastic support, and numerous cultural opportunities. The faculty have established strong relationships with many community partners, enabling community-based service learning for students and clinical practice opportunities for interested faculty.
