Description:

East Tennessee State University seeks a proven academic leader to serve as the Department Chair for the new Rehabilitative Sciences Department. The department currently houses undergraduate and graduate programs in nutrition and a new bachelor's degree in Rehabilitative Health Sciences. The Chair reports to the Dean of the College of Clinical and Rehabilitative Health Sciences and will provide leadership and department administration as well as participating as a full member of the faculty, with all relevant duties, responsibilities, and benefits. The chairperson provides vision for the department; advocates for the department's needs; supports faculty members in their teaching, professional development, service, and intellectual contributions; oversees the departmental budget; and provides service and support to varied constituencies (college, university, and outside communities). The chair will play an integral role in the curriculum development process for existing and future academic programs. The position is a 12-month appointment and also carries tenure or tenure-track faculty rank at the associate or full professor level. (AA/EOE)
