Murphy Deming College of Health Sciences (MDCHS) at Mary Baldwin University in Fishersville, VA is seeking one full-time faculty member for the Doctor of Physical Therapy Program. Murphy Deming College of Health Sciences has a strong commitment to interprofessional education.

Summary of the Position:

This faculty position is a full-time, 9.5 month appointment at the rank of Assistant/Associate Professor. Qualified candidates should have unique expertise in Kinesiology and Biomechanics including evidence-based physical therapy management. The candidate should be comfortable working in a highly interprofessional, collaborative teaching and learning environment using elements of problem-based learning.

Professional Qualifications:

- Terminal degree (Ph.D., D.Sc., Ed.D. or equivalent) preferred, but doctoral candidates (Ph.D., D.Sc., or Ed.D.) are encouraged to apply if their degree will be conferred shortly after being hired.
- American Board of Physical Therapy Specialization (ABPTS) certified clinical specialist is preferred, but not required.
- Prior teaching experience in an entry-level DPT program is preferred, but not required.
- A minimum of 3 years of clinical experience as a physical therapist and eligible for licensure in Virginia.

Teaching Responsibilities:

The successful candidate is expected to be the primary course instructor in kinesiology and biomechanics content. Other teaching responsibilities will match the candidate's experience and may include, but is not limited to, student research projects and interprofessional education opportunities with the Doctor of Occupational Therapy and Master of Science in Physician Assistant faculty and students.

Research Responsibilities:

The successful candidate is expected to develop or have in place an active research agenda with the potential for integrating students.
