POSITION: Assistant/Associate Professor of Physical Therapy. This is a tenure-track, 12-month position.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach Physical Therapy and Applied Medicine coursework in the classroom, laboratory and on-line. Perform scholarship and service per university guidelines. Serve as a core faculty member in the DPT program.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Applied Medicine and Rehabilitation offers several distinctive programs: Physical Therapy (Doctorate), Physician Assistant Studies (Master's), Occupational Therapy (Master's), Athletic Training (Doctorate, Master's, Bachelor's), and Massage Therapy (Minor) and provides healthcare to student-athletes and the public through the Physical Therapy and Sports Rehabilitation Clinic and ISU's Intercollegiate Athletic Training Services.

THE PROGRAM: The DPT program at Indiana State University is a fully CAPTE accredited DPT program, and recently admitted its 7th cohort. The program currently admits 30 students/year. The program moved into the new, state-of-the-art College of Health and Human Services Building in April of 2018.

QUALIFICATIONS: Doctorate required. Academic doctorate preferred (eg, PhD, Ed.D, DHSc, etc.) Extensive training and clinical experience/certification in neuro-rehabilitation preferred. Must be a physical therapist who is license-eligible in Indiana.

SALARY and RANK: Competitive, commensurate with experience.

THE UNIVERSITY: Founded in 1865, Indiana State University is comprised of the Colleges of Arts & Science, Business, Education, Health and Human Services, Technology and a School of Graduate Studies. Indiana State University is a comprehensive, research-intensive institution with degree programs ranging from Associate to Doctoral levels.

LOCATION: Terre Haute, a metropolitan community of approximately 60,000 people, serving as a major retailing area for west central Indiana and east central Illinois, has two private colleges in addition to the University, is 70 miles from Indianapolis and 180 miles from Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis.

APPLICATION: Screening will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Candidates should apply online at <https://jobs.indstate.edu> and search for Full-Time Lecturer in Applied Medicine and Rehabilitation. Follow the link "Apply For This Posting". It will direct you to attach your cover letter, curriculum vitae, list of at least three professional references, letters from three of your professional references, and an unofficial transcript of academic work (doctorate) to the applicant tracking program.
