Overview:

The MUSC Neurologic PT Residency has a multiple step process for facilitating the use of evidence in clinical reasoning and insuring that the resident applies didactic concepts from class. In brief, the resident creates a video of their patient, examines evidence to determine their intervention(s), applies the evidence for one week, videotapes the patient during application of the intervention, and reflects upon their management plan. This learning activity incorporates technology driven pedagogy and the teaching and learning of Evidence Based Practice. MUSC has created learning activities facilitates the resident's ability to select and justify their interventions and reflect on their decisions.
