

Therapeutic Associates Orthopedic Residency Program
David Deppler
davidd@taipt.com

Overview:

Overall this group has an extensive mentor training foundation and supports it with established theory. The documents focus more on the mentor and how they are trained and evaluate residents. They have many references to support their guidelines and learning points. The mentor manual is good and outlines the expectations. The mentee clinical reasoning form aims to assist the resident in their reasoning prior to the session. The program seeks to continue to modify and improve their forms and their training process.